Admiral Evans Takes Charge of Receiving Squadron in New York Harbor.

HENRY'S CAR IS READY

Berlin, Feb. 15.—The papers here comment on Prince Henry's departure in jubilant terms. They take the ground that as the recent misunderstanding has been cleared away the Prince's visit will cement the friendship between Germany and the United States.

Bremen, Feb. 15.—Prince Henry after an early breakfast at Kiel and having bid formal farewells boarded a special train with his suite. A small crowd witnessed his departure. Nobody was allowed to approach the station when the party arrived here. A short stop was made at Bremen, where the prince took luncheon in strict privacy at the railway station, and thence proceeded to Bremerhaven, where he boarded the Kronprinz Wilhelm immediately, thus avoiding all farewells, as the passengers had embarked previously. The vessel started at once for New York.

PHILIPPINE BILL PASS NEXT WEEK

The House Will Also Pass the War Revenue Reduction Measure—Week in Congress.

Washington, D. C., Feb. 15.—It is fully expected by the democrats and republicans in the senate that the Philippine tariff bill will be passed next week. The debate has now been running one week. On Monday the treaty for the purchase of the Danish West Indies will be considered in executive session. Tuesday's and Wednesday's sessions will be devoted entirely to the Philippine tariff bill and a vote is expected Thursday. As soon as the tariff bill is out of the way the irrigation bill will be taken up.

The house will pass the war revenue reduction bill next week. The vote will probably be taken on Wednesday.

BOWLER CRUSHES TRAIN.

Seven Killed and Twenty Injured in Arkansas Week.

Little Rock, Ark., Feb. 15.—Fifty-four railway employees sat on a slowly moving train Friday morning and watched an enormous rock weighing at least fifteen tons roll down the steep side of a high cliff which the train was passing. A moment later the great boulder fell with terrific force upon the railway immediately ahead of the engine as the train was being backed toward its destination. There was no time to reverse the engine or apply the brakes. The engine was hurled against the immovable rock and the collision killed seven workmen and injured probably twenty others seriously. The wreck occurred on the Choctaw, Oklahoma & Gulf railroad at 1 o'clock, twenty miles west of this city. Many of the workmen of the wrecked train were negroes.

Walker, in an engagement in the island of Samar, recently, captured seven rifles and numerous boxes, killed a number of Filipinos and also killed the officer in command, who was a notorious renegade, named Winfrey, a deserter from the Forty-third Regiment, whom the American troops had for months been endeavoring to capture. A man named Long, who deserted with Winfrey, is still operating with the Filipinos.

Kentucky's Interest in Road-Making.

Kentucky was one of the early western states to take an active interest in road-making. It was the policy of the state to co-operate with its minor political divisions in the construction of roads, and many years ago a corps of engineers set to work to lay off roads in all parts of the Blue Grass State.

GIVES AFFRONT TO ROYAL GUEST

ALARMS BOURBONS

Possible Effect on Next Campaign May Cause Them to Repudiate Wheeler.

PROVES A BOOMERANG

Washington, Feb. 15.—The scene in the house yesterday afternoon during the remarks of Mr. Wheeler, was both sensational and disgusting. A representative from the State of Kentucky insulted the memory of the late President McKinley, offered an affront to Germany and to that German Prince who is soon to be the guest of the American people, lampooned Secretary of State Hay, attacked Lord Pauncefote, the British ambassador, sneered at a young girl, the daughter of the President, and in other ways gave as noteworthy an exhibition of rowdiness in high places as has been seen in this country in many a day.

Created a Furore.
The man who thus distinguished himself as the champion boor of the American Congress bears the name of Charles Kennedy-Wheeler. He hails from the Paducah district of Kentucky, where he was "born and raised."

Mr. Wheeler's performance created a furore of excitement in the House, which for the moment appeared to have been converted into a wild western barroom, with the member from Kentucky running amuck. His onslaught was as unexpected as it was fierce and brutal; and for a brief period, until his colleagues could recover from the stupefaction, Mr. Wheeler greatly pleased and amused himself. He paraded up and down the central aisle of the House, shouting out his coarse insults and waving his long arms.

Democrats are Disgusted.
When the episode was over Mr. Wheeler found himself anathematized on both sides of the House. The Republicans denounced him because he had made such a sorry exhibition of his manners, but were secretly not a little pleased that the offender is a Democrat and that all the applause came from the Democratic side of the hall. The Democrats were disgusted because one of their number had offered an affront to the Germans.

"What do we care about the good will of the German people?" shouted Mr. Wheeler. "Why should people fall over themselves to see a little Dutchman come over here to take charge of a little ship?"

It is feared by the democrats that many thousands of answers to these questions will be found in the ballot boxes next November.

There is talk among them of repudiating Mr. Wheeler and his utterances. They do not like to have his sins charged up to their account, and after the adjournment of the house last night leading members of the minority party were wondering what they could do to offset the influence of the blundering words of this latter day Burchard.

OVER ONE HUNDRED BODIES RECOVERED

Vienna, Feb. 15.—Only a few details of the Shumka earthquake have been received. The shocks opened up great fissures, into which hundreds of feet of land perished. Over one hundred bodies had been recovered up to last night, at which time the quakes had not ceased. Scores of women were in the bath houses when the first shock was received and many came very near being killed.

RANSOM IS PAID TO THE BRIGANDS

Washington, Feb. 15.—The state department today officially confirmed the dispatches that conveyed the news of the payment of Miss Stone's ransom to the kidnappers. It is stated in addition that Miss Stone's actual liberation would take place as soon as the brigands got "out of the woods."

MISSIONARY MAY BE FREE.

Report That Ransom Has Been Paid and Release Is Expected.

Constantinople, Feb. 15.—The ransom of Miss Ellen M. Stone and her companion, Mme. Telika, has been paid. The limit of time allowed for the release of the captives has not yet expired, but their delivery to the American agents is expected hourly.

Washington, Feb. 15.—The State Department officials will not say there is foundation for the report that the ransom for Miss Stone has already been paid and that she is to be left at a point agreed upon, where she will be found by representatives of the American legation in Constantinople. At the same time they give the impression that there is some basis for the story and express the hope that her captivity will soon be ended.

COUNCIL NAMES POLICE CHIEF

And the Mayor Under the Law Appoints Fire Chief.

THE LAW IS PLAIN

Board of Police and Fire Commissioners Can Only Confirm Nominations.

GOOD LEGAL OPINION

The law regarding the appointment of two city officers has been subject to much conflict of opinion as to whether the council elected the chief of police and the mayor appointed the chief of the fire department subject to confirmation by the council or whether it was in the hands of the board of police and fire commissioners to appoint both.

As Regards Police Chief
This same question arose at Oshkosh where the charter is practically the same as ours. In order to settle the question the city council at Oshkosh asked their city attorney for an opinion backed up by good authority. His opinion states among other things the following:

Whether the officers of chief of police and chief of the fire department were intended to be included in the civil service law of 1897 is unnecessary to discuss.

There can be no question but what the office of chief of police is not included, this proposition is not a matter of doubt. It is not even open to argument.

The supreme court of Wisconsin in the case of O'Connor against the city of Fond du Lac, Vol 85 N. W. Rep. page 327, has fully dismissed the principles of law involved.

The supreme court holds that the office of chief of police is an office that comes within the constitutional provisions, and is one of the class the legislature is powerless to fill. Such power is expressly conferred upon the people of the municipality served by such officers.

That the civil service law is absolutely void as to the office of chief of police because the law takes from the constitutional authorities, in this case the mayor and common council is not a matter of doubt. In the case of O'Connor vs. the City of Fond du Lac, it is settled beyond question that the selection of the chief of police can be made legally only in one way, under the provision of the city charter.

Elected by the Council

The chief of police of Janesville is elected by the council. The chief of the fire department is appointed by the mayor and confirmed by the council.

When the mayor has appointed a chief of the fire department and the common council has selected a chief of police it is not necessary to have the board of police and fire commissioners confirm the appointments.

This question arose in Fond du Lac in 1897, when O'Connor was chief of police. The city elected a new chief and the question arose. Under what authority can the chief of police be appointed. The supreme court settled the question by saying the chief must be elected or appointed as provided by the city charter. The case is strictly applicable to Janesville or any other city in the state. The provisions of the city charter are the only provisions of law by which a chief of police can be appointed.

From the foregoing opinion the following conclusions are drawn:

First. The so called civil service law in no manner affects the right of the mayor to appoint a chief of the fire department or the council to elect a chief of police.

Second. The appointments can be made only under the provisions of the city charter.

Mr. Burgee Coincides

City Attorney Burgee coincides in the above opinion and thinks it applicable to Janesville. The above opinion was submitted to T. S. Nolan of the board of police and fire commissioners and gives the following opinion:

"I believe the appointments of Chief of Police or City Marshal, and Chief of the Fire Department should be made under the provisions of the city charter. The Police and Fire Commission has not the power of appointment. The appointment should be made, however, from the list of those pronounced worthy by the commission. That is to say: Certain men have taken the civil service examination prescribed by the Commission. Some passed, others did not. Appointments should be made from the list of those who successfully passed the examination.

"The approval of the commission is necessary to the appointment; and it has the power to suspend or remove or Chief of Police, or Chief Engineer or other officer, for cause after trial, or summarily, for the good of the service. As I understand it the purpose of the law creating the Police and Fire Commission is not to take from the Mayor and Council the power of appointment but to add them in selecting competent, reputable and efficient men. I believe the commission should work with the Mayor and Council to attain this object; it has no far."

SPLENDORS OF GOLDEN STATE

Mrs. Brand Writes From Monterey and Pacific Grove, California.

HOTEL DEL MONTE

Park Surrounding is Magnificent and Beautiful With Nature's Work.

A PICTURESQUE DRIVE

Monterey, Calif., Feb. 10.—(Special)—It is always a pleasure to visit one's friends, especially when one is far from home where these friends also once resided and toward which their thoughts turn constantly with fondest memories and tenderest associations, but when the visit also means living for several days in the most picturesque as well as the most interesting portion of California, historically as well as naturally, there is an additional delight beyond the expression of words.

Visit Mr. and Mrs. W. A. Brown. Such a pleasure it was ours to enjoy as guests at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Wallace A. Brown of Pacific Grove. Both Mr. and Mrs. Brown are well remembered in Janesville, their childhood home and the home still of several of their relatives and many friends. Milton, Clinton and Beloit also saw the beginning of Mr. Brown's career as a newspaper man and his friends will be pleased to know that he is pushing the pencil with signal success in this land of sunshine and roses, being proprietor and publisher of the Pacific Grove Review, the only newspaper in one of the prettiest resort cities on the Pacific coast.

In spite of the contesting and well established claims of many beautiful places in this wonderful land, travelers who are familiar with the entire state are authority for the statement that there is no more charming part of the country to visit than that which borders on Monterey Bay. Indeed it would be difficult to imagine a greater combination of fascinations than those which bless the vicinity in whose enchantment we enjoyed new and delightful experiences for a very happy week.

Hear the Quaint Legends
Breathing the air swept from the great ocean which lay at our feet and from the pine clad mountains which come almost down to the sea, wandering through the streets of old Monterey, the first capital of California, and listening to poetic stories and quaint legends, or sitting on the rocky shore of the bay to watch its changing colors we spent a week never to be forgotten.

Pacific Grove is 125 miles from San Francisco and eighteen miles from the main coast line between San Francisco and Los Angeles.

Pacific Grove was founded by the Methodists as an assembly ground with no more ambitious thought than that which is realized at Monona Lake. A larger future was in store for it, however, and instead of being a camping ground for a few weeks of the Chautauqua it has grown into a city of pretty little homes and cottages, a resort greatly favored by Californians for its cool weather in summer and its mild climate in winter, together with its comparative freedom from fog.

Earmarks of Methodism
Though the little city has outstripped the expectations of its founders in some respects, it has been limited by well paved streets show that it was originally laid out as a city of tents. The city charter also bears the earmarks of Methodism for under its provisions not a saloon nor a dance hall is permitted within the limits. In winter only about 2,500 people call this place home but in the summer months the population is increased to about 5,000, and row after row of tents are pitched between the pretty little cottages.

Many delightful excursions are possible from Pacific Grove and so royally were we entertained that it required no coaxing to persuade us to allow the one day which we had intended as the limit of our visit to multiply itself several times. Many hours were spent on the shore which is usually picturesque, great rocky cliffs separating stretches of sandy beach strewn with sparkling pebbles and sea shells.

The Hotel Del Monte
The bay has been termed the Naples of the New World and it is impossible to tell whether it is most beautiful when flashing its opal tints of blue, green and violet in the sunlight, or when shimmering in somber beauty under the light of the full moon.

A pleasant day was spent at the Hotel del Monte, the five-mile trip from Pacific Grove being made on a slowly moving horse car. The hotel is an immense one standing in the center of a great park, many acres in extent. The hotel is frequented summer and winter by wealthy Californians, especially those from San Francisco, and by tourists. In summer it is the center of festivities and in the evening thousands of people wander through the grounds lighted with electricity and Chinese lanterns, listening to the music of an excellent band.

The grounds are beautifully laid out the walks and drives winding between great oaks and stately palms and part of the immense flower beds. The park is densely wooded and a pretty little lagoon is an attractive feature. There are also golf links, a club house, bathing and boating houses. The grounds are a triumph of artificial cultivation having the appearance of natural luxuriance and the park is frequently called the Garden of Eden.

The Hotel Del Monte is controlled by the Pacific Improvement company and the management owns the promontory between the Monterey and Carmel bays.

A picturesque drive, known as the seventeen mile drive, has been laid out on this promontory. It is the most interesting driveway imaginable taking one through the heart of pine woods, around the foothills of the great mountains which seem to come close to the sea beyond Carmel bay, and lying for miles along a rugged and picturesque coast line.

No where else does the timber on the mountains come so close to the sea, most of the great peaks which are near the ocean being bleak and bare, and this gives a great variety of scenery.

Live Oak and Cypress

In places the road is so narrow and steep that there is only room for one carriage so everyone who makes the drive is forced to go in the same direction, entering at one toll gate near Pacific Grove and leaving it at a similar gate near Monterey. Of the native trees the two most interesting are the live oak and the Monterey cypress. The oaks sometimes grow in the most fantastic shapes, the trunks and limbs being gnarled and twisted grotesquely, while others are straight and symmetrical. The tops, however, are always broad, well rounded and even, the dark green foliage being so dense that there are no irregular outlines.

The cypress trees of Monterey are found only in this vicinity and in the Holy Land, it being said that they are identical with the cedar trees of Lebanon. Some of these cypress trees, which are evergreen, attain a height of sixty feet while others grow so low that the top rests on the ground, the trunk not being visible. The trees are thick, stout and graceful.

Scenes of Rare Beauty

Two of these cypress trees lean toward each other until the tops meet and by a peculiar freak the outline formed is that of an immense ostrich, stalking up the side of the hill. Moss Beach, where the surf is very pretty; Pebble Beach, Midway Point and the hill from the summit of which can be seen both Monterey and Carmel bays, are all interesting places to be seen on the drive which must be taken in person if its beauties are to be realized.

Coming down the steep hill we finally drove into Monterey but we did not linger in its quaint environment. Another day was devoted to sight seeing in this old stronghold of Spain and another letter must serve to tell a little of what we saw on that day.

MASQUERADE OF REBEKAH LODGE

When the members of America Rebekah lodge No. 26, set out to have a good time their efforts are always crowned with success and the masquerade held last evening at the East Side Old Fellows hall was no exception to the general rule. The capacious hall was well filled and the very air was heavily laden with pleasure. The masqueraders were numerous and the large number of spectators crowded them into the center of the hall. There were many very good make-ups and the usual motley array of clowns and comic characters. There were about two hundred in the grand march. Four prizes were given and were awarded as follows: Best character, lady, Mrs. Loomis, as an old woman; best character, gentleman, Bert Gleason, as a valentine man; best comic character, lady, Miss Beatrice Preller, Chinese lady; best comic character, gentleman, J. V. Mosher, as a farmer.

After the unmasking many of the spectators joined in the dance which continued until one o'clock. The music was furnished by a new orchestra under the direction of W. A. Cadwallader. The music was rendered well and was pleasantly received. Numerous visitors were present from lodges in other parts of the county and America Rebekah lodge may well feel proud of the success scored last evening.

WEDDED. Tuesday morning, at "Our Lady of Sorrows" church, 1432 Jackson Boulevard, was solemnized the marriage of Miss Luella E. Wright, of Janesville and Wm. Welch of Chicago. By the Rev. Father John Sheahan, in a most impressive manner. The bride was attended by Miss Addie Baker, of Irving Park, while Frank Dale acted as best man. The bride is a highly esteemed and popular young lady, of unusual ability and accomplishments. While the groom is a favorite railroad man of splendid qualities and his fellow citizens congratulate him in the choice of his bride and a host of admiring friends with them a world blessing of a long and happy life.

CHARLES W. WOOD AN IMPERSONATOR The fourth entertainment on the High school course was given last evening and very pleasantly entertained a large audience. Three names were on the program and each one did some very good work.

Charles Winter Wood, as an impersonator and humorist, is very good and his changes from the demure to the gay, from joy to sorrow from stern to giddy were very good and well received. Mr. Wood is a colored man and has a fine command of the English language. He also speaks the negro dialect to perfection. As a humorist he is especially pleasing and was given hearty applause.

The efforts of Miss Pern Peake as a soprano, rendered some very pleasing numbers and was also given much applause. Miss Peake has a pure voice of considerable volume. She has an excellent control of her voice and sings clear and distinct.

Miss Morris, as a pianist, displayed considerable talent. Her numbers were rendered in an artistic manner, showing good command over the piano, which seemed almost to speak under her magic touch.

The program was a good one in its entirety, each acquitted himself in a creditable manner and the applause was liberal and well distributed.

The auditorium was filled to overflowing and at times some of those in the gallery were somewhat turbulent.

MASQUERADE OF REBEKAH LODGE

When the members of America Rebekah lodge No. 26, set out to have a good time their efforts are always crowned with success and the masquerade held last evening at the East Side Old Fellows hall was no exception to the general rule. The capacious hall was well filled and the very air was heavily laden with pleasure. The masqueraders were numerous and the large number of spectators crowded them into the center of the hall. There were many very good make-ups and the usual motley array of clowns and comic characters. There were about two hundred in the grand march. Four prizes were given and were awarded as follows: Best character, lady, Mrs. Loomis, as an old woman; best character, gentleman, Bert Gleason, as a valentine man; best comic character, lady, Miss Beatrice Preller, Chinese lady; best comic character, gentleman, J. V. Mosher, as a farmer.

After the unmasking many of the spectators joined in the dance which continued until one o'clock. The music was furnished by a new orchestra under the direction of W. A. Cadwallader. The music was rendered well and was pleasantly received. Numerous visitors were present from lodges in other parts of the county and America Rebekah lodge may well feel proud of the success scored last evening.

CHARLES W. WOOD AN IMPERSONATOR The fourth entertainment on the High school course was given last evening and very pleasantly entertained a large audience. Three names were on the program and each one did some very good work.

Charles Winter Wood, as an impersonator and humorist, is very good and his changes from the demure to the gay, from joy to sorrow from stern to giddy were very good and well received. Mr. Wood is a colored man and has a fine command of the English language. He also speaks the negro dialect to perfection. As a humorist he is especially pleasing and was given hearty applause.

The efforts of Miss Pern Peake as a soprano, rendered some very pleasing numbers and was also given much applause. Miss Peake has a pure voice of considerable volume. She has an excellent control of her voice and sings clear and distinct.

Miss Morris, as a pianist, displayed considerable talent. Her numbers were rendered in an artistic manner, showing good command over the piano, which seemed almost to speak under her magic touch.

A defective chimney caused quite a scare in the Frank Kellogg home last Sunday. Mr. Kellogg discovered flames coming from the roof around the chimney. He attached the garden hose to the hydrant and soon had the fire under control, without calling out the fire company.

Very little damage was done owing to Mr. Kellogg's presence of mind.

Richmond, Feb. 14.—Tuesday occurred the death of Mr. John J. Daly, after a brief illness of pneumonia. Mr. Daly was one of the earliest settlers in Walworth Co., having resided in the town of Richmond nearly fifty years, coming from Racine. Besides a wife, Mr. Daly leaves to mourn his death, three daughters, Mrs. Johnson and Mrs. Edward Schriebe, of Richmond and an adopted daughter, Mrs. Cora Craig, of Black River Falls, who will attend the interment.

Never in the history of the town has so much sickness prevailed, especially in the cold disease of pneumonia.

A very painful, but not serious accident occurred to Mr. Harry Blakeman, a few days ago. While returning from the creamery, his team became frightened, shying suddenly to the side of the road, upsetting his rig and throwing him out, injuring his back in a painful manner. The team escaped injury.

Mr. Chas. Stoller has sufficiently recovered from the rheumatism, so as to attend to his work again.

G. F. Parrish is slowly recovering from a severe attack of inflammatory rheumatism, which has confined him to his bed for the past six weeks, under the careful attendance of Dr. Miller.

People's Drug Store and King's Pharmacy will refund you your money if you are not satisfied after using Chamberlain's Stomach and Liver Tablets. They cure disorders of the stomach, biliousness, constipation and headache. Price, 25 cents. Samples free. For sale by all druggists.

Methodist Book Committee.

Cincinnati, Feb. 15.—The Methodist Book Committee Friday discussed the report on revision of the Hymnal, but postponed action to give the Methodist Church South time to consider it with a view to joint action. The publishing agents jointly recommended the employment of experts or specialists to edit books instead of having regular editors employed on book work. Statistics show that there have been over 400,000 different books published relating directly and indirectly to religion, including histories and works on archeology. The next meeting will be in New York.

Steamship Lines Join Forces.

Boston, Mass., Feb. 15.—It has been announced here that a combination has been effected by the Dominion and Leyland Steamship lines of Boston and the American, White Star and Atlantic Transport lines of New York. The movements of the transatlantic steamers of all the lines named will be directed from one headquarters in London, which will be under the direction of Henry Wilding, a director of the Leyland, the Atlantic Transport and the American lines. One of the men most deeply interested in the combination is J. Pierpont Morgan.

Pea Canners in a Coshing.

Milwaukee, Wis., Feb. 15.—The canners, who wound up their convention and left for home Friday, now seem to think the proposed pea trust will be formed. Though the canners are afraid of the trust, they are afraid to stay out of it. W. H. Beach of Cambridge, N. Y., and Willard G. Rouse of Bel Air, Md., are promoters of the deal. Practically all the pea canners of Wisconsin, Illinois, Michigan, Indiana and Ohio are said to be included, as well as about half of those in the east.

LAXAKOLA

The Great Tonic Laxative

WATCH the children carefully. Their health, perhaps their lives, depend on keeping their bowels regular. Many parents make a mistake by giving their little children the old-fashioned, violent purgatives which are racking and gripping, and are therefore not only unpleasant, but dangerous.

Laxakola does not gripe nor irritate. It is a pure, gentle and painless liquid laxative. It is not only a sure laxative, but it contains valuable tonic properties which not only act upon the bowels, but tone up the entire system and purify the blood. A few drops can be given with safety to very young babies, and will often relieve colic by expelling the wind and gas that cause it. Great relief is experienced when administered to young children suffering from diarrhea, accompanied with white or green evacuations, as LAXAKOLA neutralizes the acidity of the bowels and carries out the cause of the fermentation. It will aid digestion, relieve restlessness, assist nature, and induce sleep. For constipation, simple fevers, coated tongue, or any infantile troubles arising from a disordered condition of the stomach it is invaluable. At drugists, 25c. and 70c., or send for free sample to LAXAKOLA CO., 132 Nassau Street, New York, or 350 Dearborn Street, Chicago.

Trade supplied by King's Pharmacy and People's Drug Store.

WEATHER FORECAST.
Partly cloudy tonight; Sunday cold.

OBSERVATION.

Did you notice that man who just left the store?
No. Who is he?

The proprietor. He lives in the city, but drops in unexpectedly every now and then, as he did today.

Two boys were standing at the counter during the noon hour. The first one addressed was new on the force and when he left the arm to enter a business career, his mother had said to him, "whatever you do, be honest my boy," while his father jokingly said, "keep your eyes and ears open and don't get run over by the cars."

Experiences were new and strange to him, for it was his first venture away from home. He said to himself, "mother needn't worry about my honesty." But as the days went by, he discovered that his father's advice meant more than a passing admonition, and as he had started in the race to win, he proposed to profit by it. So he said to his companion:

"Does the proprietor pay much attention to the clerks and does he keep track of what is going on?"
"You bet he does. He knew you was a new boy and he looked you over pretty sharp as he went by. We are always at our best when the old man is around."

And then he was called away to wait on a customer.

"When the old man is around," Johnnie repeated to himself, and yet they don't know when he is coming. Seems to me we ought to be at our best all the time, and then we are ready for inspection at a moment's notice. I don't know much about the business, but I've got a good pair of ears, and a couple of good eyes, and father knew what he was about when he said to keep them both open. A little close observation and a good stock of determination and I propose to get to the front," and so the boy started to win success.

Observation is the great instructor in the school of experience. The young man who observes and takes heed, is an apt pupil and if he fails to win some of the prizes of life, the fault is not all his own. There are two classes of men in the world, so far as methods of work are concerned and they are to be found in every department of toil. One preforms his task by main strength. The other by close observation, soon discovers the easiest way to accomplish the most in a given time.

In every industrial institution, where labor is employed on a piece work basis, an expert workman sets the pace and regulates the price. Every motion counts and by close observation of methods employed by the leader, the entire force soon becomes expert. They have been taking lessons of observation in the school of experience, with a practical incentive in the way of increased wages, and unless the scholar is extremely dull, the lesson is always studied with profit.

Some men go through life doing things just as their father did and when the procession passes them in the race, by adopting and using modern methods, they never discover, until too late, that failure is due to the fact that they are behind the times.

One man goes through the woods on a hot summer day, seeing nothing in the trees but refreshing shade. His companion, with a keen observing eye points out the different kinds of trees, that compose the forest. Neither one knows much about books, but one is a student of nature, while the other has no interest in wood except for fire and shade.

The old prospector, who has grub, stalked the mountains for years, has studied geology by observation, and he seldom makes a mistake.

The man who predicts the weather for months in advance, while he may not always hit it, is found on the whole to be reliable. He studies by observation, atmospheric conditions and calculates frequently to a certainty the storms or degree of heat and cold that will prevail in all parts of the world.

The old farmer notes the husks on the corn and the kind of a coat his stock is putting on for cold weather and predicts with reasonable certainty what the winter will be, while his good wife watches the daughter, as she comes along into young womanhood, and discovers with equal certainty symptoms that seldom fail to lead to matrimonial alliance. The winter comes as predicted, and a wedding follows in the spring. No one is surprised at either event, and the family is prepared for both, because the old people were good observers.

The world of nature, as well as the world of humanity, is an open book. In fact they are the most complete libraries that the world contains.

It is estimated of all the young people who attend school, that 95 per cent. of them go out into life without a diploma. It is well that this great multitude, representing the vast majority, have free and unlimited access to these two great libraries, and that before middle age is reached, the graduating classes comprise a great host, that no man may number. There are no closing exercises, no roll of parchment, with blue ribbon, no class associations and no Alma mater, but from the store, the shop, the farm and the office, young men are equipping themselves in the school of every day experience, by close observation, and application, for positions of trust and responsibility.

The boy at 21 climbs into the cab of an engine and shovels coal for four years. His teacher is the old engineer and the machine, which taxes every ounce of strength that he possesses. But at the end of his apprenticeship the company promotes him to an engine. He is a graduate in the school of experience, and while he couldn't build an engine, when his hand is on the throttle, he is master of the situation, contributing intelligent service. Only one of thousands of the same class, performing faithful work, because thoroughly equipped through observation.

The commercial world, as well as the industrial, is prosperous today because intelligent observation, in every department, has taken advantage of the great opportunities presented. The world is not suffering for a lack of knowledge. If there is any weakness, it is through inability to express knowledge in practical ways. The young man from college, with head full of theories, soon discovers, if at all observing, that the men who win are intensely practical. They seldom express an opinion of what they know, life is too short for that, but they are intense doers. They never spend much time theorizing. If a well developed theory comes along, they adopt it. They use the long distance telephone and telegraphy, until the wireless system is no longer an experiment. What they know about business, has come through observation in the hard school of experience and success has resulted from knowledge intelligently applied. A thorough training in university or college ought to furnish a young man with a double equipment, and it will if he enters the great university of life, with eyes and ears open to catch the inspiration of the great world's busy hum of activity. But if his ears are dull and his eyes closed, he might better by far to belong to the great majority with whom he is to compete for some of the prizes. There is no royal road to success, and the dignity of toil, defines the aristocracy.

In the world of humanity, conditions are frequently complex, and no text book, save the old book of books, has ever been discovered, that has been of much service. It is so natural to get into individual shells and stay there, that many people go through life without knowing anybody; but themselves, and people are unkind enough to say of this class of people "They don't know how mean they are."

Some men live with their wives for 40 years without knowing much about them. There was a time when they used to notice a smile of welcome, but that was so long ago it is forgotten. The gray has stolen into the hair and the wrinkles into the face, the sparkle has gone out of the eye and the sprightfulness out of the voice, and while these transformations have been going on unobserved, she is expected to be the cook and laundress, for her board and a very ordinary wardrobe. Some morning when she lies in the casket, there will be plenty of time to observe the marks that time has traced, but it will be a little late to reform.

The people who accomplish most for humanity, are the people who are the most observing. When the master "went about doing good," nothing in the way of sorrow or suffering escaped his notice. His representatives are in their best estate, when they imitate this kind of work and the world is full of want today.

Did you get a valentine? If so, you ought to be happy. One little five year old urchin, wandered into a grocery yesterday morning and when the lady at the counter asked him what he wanted, he said in a timid voice, "I wish I had a valentine." The lady said, "Bless you my child, you shall have one," and soon he was on his way home, with cupid in one hand, a bag of candy in the other, and a smile on his face as broad as the space would permit.

Some of the administration papers are finding consolation in the statement that saloon men are down on Whitehead and all for La Follette. Fifty of the fifty four saloon men in Janesville are democrats. The Republican party has never banked on them very much for support. If they take kindly to La Folletteism, they should be encouraged.

The farmers who are complaining about increased taxation, should be consoled by the fact, that the cat will come back in two or three years, if not gobbled up by the Madison octopus.

If you can't be a druggist or a tin solder, try the oil business. The late discovery of oil at Waukesha will make a demand for more oil inspectors.

People who imagine that the life of a newspaper man is all sunshine, should take a day off with the crop of spring poets.

The disbanding of Janesville's military company is another stroke of policy by the governor. The flower City is a bad town to live in under the present administration. The only people who are having a good time, are the horse doctors and oil inspectors, and they are kept so busy that they don't really enjoy it.

The Milwaukee organ is not subsidized. It is engaged in publishing a campaign sheet for glory. That's all there is to it. Men sometimes die for glory.

Who pays the freight, the state or the individual? If the latter, whose business is it?

PRESS COMMENT.

Marinette Eagle: The great bulk of the party today we believe recognizes the mistake that was made two years ago. That mistake can be only partially remedied, but the quickest way to harmony is to cast off the false leader who has brought contention within the party. The nomination of any good republican in place of the present governor will bring about at least partial harmony, but there never can be any harmony so long as La Follette maintains his power. His personal machine is opposed to anything that is not for his own personal aggrandizement and that of his immediate satellites.

La Crosse Rep. & Leader: The wreck of the Detroit Savings bank is another score for stock gambling. Frank C. Andrews three months ago was a millionaire. He began plunging in the stock market. His phenomenal luck had deserted him. In a short time he became hopelessly entangled and now the innocent must suffer.

Whitewater Register: The governor has not strengthened his position in any part of the state by such a slap in the face of the home city as the removal of E. B. Helms from the state board of pharmacy. Mr. Helms' removal has been the energetic and efficient secretary of the board for many years, and the removal was made in the face of united appeals by his professional brethren for his retention in the office.

The Milwaukee Free Press makes a hullabaloo over the stalwarts buying up country newspapers and makes a grand stand expose. But if that paper will consent to enlighten the public as to the number, amount paid and by whom, in behalf of La Follette, it will prove still more interesting reading and perhaps more of it.—Times, Neenah.

Green Bay Gazette: A Massachusetts man left a bequest of $150 to the Methodist church of his town, the income from which is to be expended in purchasing turkeys for Thanksgiving and Christmas dinners of the pastor of the church. That church will probably never lack a pastor want of applicants.

Oshkosh Northwestern: The new style in shirtwaists makes it possible for a woman to have something up her sleeve, remarks an exchange. But everyone knows that they have had something up their sleeves ever since Eve designed the first shirt waist and as a usual thing it has proved to be a trump, no matter what the game.

Appleton Crescent: It is said that a school teacher the other day asked her pupils to write a long sentence and one of the boys caused her to faint when he wrote "imprisonment for life."

Marinette Eagle: The governor virtually admits defeat, when his organs have to resort to the cry of "bribery."

FOND DU LAC SENTIMENT

The Whitehead petitions, which have been circulated in Fond du Lac county, have been signed freely regardless of the locality into which they have been sent, and indicate practically a unanimous sentiment for the Rock County man. Of course more than double the signatures could have been secured had a little more time been allowed for a canvass, but with a fair representation from each town the showing will be good. Fond du Lac should not let the other counties get ahead of her, however, and for that reason everyone who has charge of a petition would do well to give it all attention possible, and report at the earliest convenient date. Fond du Lac is for Whitehead, but the petitions should and doubtless will show the sentiment to be not only for him, but overwhelming in his favor.—Fond du Lac Commonwealth.

TRUE TO THE LETTER.

The oleomargarine bill now before Congress is the rankest kind of legislation. The Kansas City Star expresses itself in regard to it in the following forcible manner: "Would the country permit a prohibitive tax on mules for the benefit of horse raisers? What would it think of a proposal to tax suburban electric lines to help out the railroads? Would it prohibit the sale of canned goods in the interest of homegrown growers? If such favoritism would not be allowed, why should Congress depreciate the value of Western cattle at the request of dairymen? The oleomargarine bill is the rankest of class legislation. It is brought forward under false pretenses. Its principle is unjust, its defense a sham." Grant County Witness.

JOHN SHUBERT HAD A NARROW ESCAPE

Slid From the icy Roof of the New City Hall—Caught Himself On the Eaves.

John Shubert, a workman employed by James Rowson & Son, contractors on the new city hall, is thanking kind providence that he is alive today, or at least not laid up in a hospital with severe injuries.

Yesterday afternoon shortly after one o'clock Shubert went out on the roof of the city hall at the back end of the building to clear off the ice from the valley made in the roof of the gable. He was tending on the peak of the roof engaged in cutting the ice loose, and was resting partly on the ice, which was where he was at work frozen tightly to the roof.

The lower edge of the ice near the gutter was loosened by the sun and ready to let go at any minute. Shubert did not know this and kept on cutting the ice loose on the upper edge and working down the valley. Suddenly when he was part way down the steep incline, the whole mass of ice gave way and Shubert, ice and all started towards the edge of the roof, forty feet above the ground at a rapid pace.

Shubert was on his back in his rapid slide and was pawing and grabbing at anything that would offer him a finger hold. He was unable to grab anything to stop his slide until he reached the eaves which extend out about a foot. He shot out over the eaves until his legs and part of his body were hanging over the eaves and it seemed certain that he would be dashed on the pile of stones that had been quarried for the tower and were piled up below him.

The workmen that saw him fall and to whom it seemed certain he would be dashed on the stones below and killed held their breath and shut their eyes.

Right here was where Shubert fooled them. As he struck the gutter and his legs shot out over the edge he turned onto his face like a cat and sunk his fingers into the roof at the inside edge of the stone gutter. Fortunately he secured a hold and was able to check his fall. He hung dangling there over the edge of the eaves for some time until he recovered strength enough to pull himself back into the gutter.

Here he laid for some minutes and regained his composure and then crawled alone to a window and made his way into the building. The workmen who saw him fall rushed at once to his assistance but he had pulled himself on onto the eaves and was in the building when they arrived.

Mr. Shubert said it was the narrowest shave he ever had and that he did a whole lot of thinking when he was sliding down the roof and wondering where he would land.

THE UNION LABEL AND WHITE LABEL

Mrs. Julia S. Lovejoy Explains the Difference Between the Two—An Appeal For White Label.

Editor Gazette: There seems to be some misunderstanding about the use of the union label and of the white label when placed upon goods. The mission of each is beneficent. They do not conflict, but should work in harmony with each other.

The union label is issued by the labor unions, an organization of producers. It is given to factories which conform to the rules of the union and employ union workers. Its object is to identify goods from factories where the worker's hours of labor are reasonable and his wage fair.

The white label covers a ground which the union label cannot reach. It applies chiefly to the white muslin underwear and women's garments made by women and girls. This label is given to factories that are clean, well ventilated and well-lighted, who do not employ children under the factory age, and where the hours of labor are reasonable and the wage fair.

The consumers demand that the goods which they wear shall be made in these places, rather than in sweat shops. The sweat shop cannot be reached by organized labor, but its product can be refused by organized consumers until the merchant finds it unprofitable to keep them and the contractor who parcels out work to sweat shops shall find no demand for their goods.

It is sometimes necessary for a woman to work at home rather than in a factory. The Consumers' league provides for this necessity by an inspector who frequently visits the home work room and if it is clean and the family free from disease and the worker fairly paid the white label is given to these garments.

Anyone who knows about sweat shops and the filth, disease and misery which they cover and disseminate will wish for their extermination.

The white label means non-sweat-shops, good hours and fair wages. Nearly two hundred women have pledged themselves to buy these garments rather than any other. The list of pledges is growing and will be much larger. These goods include muslin underwear, shirts, corsets, wrappers, supporters and some of them are kept by the principal merchants in this city.

Let us increase the demand for these goods by buying them. We thereby help the conditions surrounding working women and girls and promote the cause of humanity.

JULIA S. LOVEJOY.

"SLIPPERY GUS" IN HANDS OF POLICE

The Notorious Car Breaker Captured After a Running Fight—Desperate and Shifty Character.

Yesterday afternoon about 1:30 o'clock one mile north of Bloomington Ill., two Northwestern railroad detectives, Clark and Schroeder, succeeded in a running fight in which a number of shots were fired, in arresting the notorious car breaker, Gus Moore.

Moore was known as "Slippery Gus," to the police force of this city and other places along the line. He has been mixed up in numerous car robberies and gets his name from the number of times he has escaped arrest.

His record dates back ten years when he was a boy of sixteen years. The detectives had been watching him for some time but did not have sufficient evidence to convict him, so followed him around looking for a chance to pick him up.

Yesterday afternoon word was sent the detectives that Moore was at Cary on the line between here and Chicago trying to sell a case of shoes and his actions seemed suspicious.

He got word that the detectives were after him and securing a horse and buggy started off in the direction of Barrington. The detectives were on the ground a short time afterwards and securing a rig started out after the fleeing man.

They caught up with him just north of Barrington and ordered him to halt, but instead he started the horse on the run. The detectives drew their guns and opened up on Moore. It was only after they had shot the horse and filled the buggy full of bullet holes and lodged one bullet in Moore's shoulder that he surrendered.

A lot of wire snags and a seal punch were found on his person; also a custom house padlock.

It was his method to break open a seal and enter the car, get whatever he wanted. He would then close the door and seal it with one of the wire snags.

Thus from the outside it looked as if the car had not been tampered with. It is a relief to the company to have this man captured as he has caused them considerable trouble. He will be given the full extent of the law which is a severe penalty.

AN INVESTIGATION OF CHILD LABOR

H. B. Peterson, a State Factory Inspector at Work in Janesville— Goes to Beloit Next.

H. B. Peterson, one of the state factory inspectors closed up his work in the city today and left for Madison tonight to spend Sunday. Mr. Peterson came here last Tuesday and has been giving the question of child labor considerable attention among the various local industries.

On account of several accidents which have occurred to children here lately he was instructed to look into the matter thoroughly. Generally speaking he says the conditions are very favorable here. There is not a great amount of child labor employed in factories, etc., and the protection from machinery, usually complies with the laws.

Mr. Peterson has been inspector for the Northern Wisconsin district with headquarters at West Superior and has only just been transferred to this district; he goes into Beloit next week.

There is work in Janesville for another full week, said Mr. Peterson, if I had the time to give it. Every employer of labor, no matter on how small a scale, should be called upon; often the smaller employers are the ones who require the most attention from the inspectors.

ANOTHER PIONEER HAS PASSED AWAY

Death of C. C. Peterson Shortly After Noon Today After an Extended Illness—Funeral Monday.

C. C. Peterson, one of the foremost citizens of Janesville, passed away today at 12:20 o'clock at his home, 102 Cherry street after an extended illness. Deceased was seventy years of age at the time of his death and came to Janesville from Norway in 1853.

He was always actively identified with the business interests of the city and was a man who made many friends by his unassuming ways and strict business principles. He was in the retail boot and shoe business with S. Trulson from 1866 to 1897 when failing health caused him to retire from active business life.

There is left to mourn his death a widow and two children, Mrs. Christine P. Hawley and Edward H. Peterson. The funeral services will be held Monday afternoon from his late residence and will be private.

THREE DIVORCES IN ONE MORNING

Kennison came next and as there was no defense and good grounds the decree was granted. S. W. Menzies of Beloit appeared for the plaintiff in both cases. Amelia Raser vs. Louis Raser was the third. L. E. Gottle of Edgerton and other witnesses were sworn for the plaintiff. There was no appearance on the part of the defendant. In the case of Ida L. Scott vs. E. T. Wheeler judgment was entered in favor of the plaintiff $345.37 and $21.29 costs.

In the case of William Byrne vs. P. D. Kimball a motion for a new trial and to set aside the verdict was made and a stay of proceedings was granted.

HOMES IN MANILA.

At the close of the sixth season no choice was left to Mr. Holmes as to the direction in which he should travel. All things pointed to the far east—toward a group of islands which had suddenly become the center of our national interest. Mr. Holmes set out for the Philippines on the first anniversary of Dewey's victory. Arriving at Manila late in the spring, he remained until advent of the rainy season in July made further travel or photographic work impossible. It is not too much to say that the results of this journey were awaited with intense interest; for the public had already listened to the story of the correspondent and the returned soldier, but the story of the traveler had not yet been told.

It is the Manila of the traveler that Mr. Holmes presents with all the vividness that illustrations of the place and snapshots of events can lend to his descriptions. This lecture cannot fail to be interesting on account of existing conditions.

ATTEMPTED TO MAKE A FLYING SWITCH

Engine No. 372 on the Northwestern Road Was Mixed Up in an Accident Today.

This morning about eight o'clock switch engine No. 372, on the C. & N. W. R. R., became mixed up in an accident that happened a few rods south of the Pleasant street crossing near Center avenue. The engine is the same one that smashed the canning factory last summer and has had a varied experience in the way of accidents.

The engine was in charge of Engineer Wilcox and Fireman Schoenberg and they were attempting to make a flying switch. The switchman did not open the switch quick enough and the engine left the track, taking the tender along with it. The engine tore up the track for twenty-five feet and turned over on its left side, tearing off the left side of the cab from the floor to the roof, and almost tearing out the pipes and levers on that side of the cab.

Engineer Wilcox got out of the wreck some way, and does not know whether he jumped or fell out. In getting out, however, he sprained his back, but that is not a serious matter. Fireman Schoenberg was scalded some on the right side and arm by steam from the broken pipes.

The wrecking crew was on the ground in a short time and hastily righted the engine and tender and section men soon had the track in order. At nine o'clock the track was clear and business was again resumed.

The broken engine and tender were taken to the shops and are undergoing repairs.

FOR SINGERS AND SPEAKERS.

The New Remedy For Catarrh is Very Valuable.

A Grand Rapids gentleman who represents a prominent manufacturing concern and travels through central and southern Michigan, relates the following regarding the new catarrh cure, he says:

"After suffering from catarrh of the head, throat and stomach for several years, I heard of Stuart's Catarrh Tablets quite accidentally and he every thing else, I immediately bought a package and was decidedly surprised at the immediate relief it afforded me and still more to find a complete cure after several weeks' use.

"I have a little son who sings in a boys' choir in one of our prominent churches, and he is greatly troubled with hoarseness and throat weakness and on my return home from a trip I gave him a few of the tablets on Sunday morning when he had complained of hoarseness. He was delighted with their effect, removing all huskiness in a few minutes and making the voice clear and strong.

"As the tablets are very pleasant to the taste, I had no difficulty in persuading him to use them regularly.

"Our family physician told us they were an antiseptic preparation of uncounted merit and that he himself had no hesitation in using and recommending Stuart's Catarrh Tablets for any form of catarrh.

"I have since met many public speakers and professional singers who used them constantly. A prominent Detroit lawyer told me that Stuart's Catarrh Tablets kept the throat in fine shape during the most trying weather, and that he had long since discarded the use of cheap lozenges and troches on the advice of his physician that they contained too much tolu, potash and opium as to render their use a danger to health."

Stuart's Catarrh Tablets are large pleasant tasting lozenges composed of catarrhal antiseptics, like Red Gum, Blood Root, etc., and sold by druggists everywhere at 50c for full treatment.

They act upon the blood and mucous membrane and their composition and remarkable success has won the approval of physicians, as well as thousands of sufferers from nasal catarrh, throat troubles and catarrh of stomach.

Pretty Children

"We have three children. Before the birth of the last one my wife used four bottles of MOTHER'S FRIEND. If you had the pictures of our children, you could see at a glance that the last one is healthiest, prettiest and finest-looking of them all. My wife thinks MOTHER'S FRIEND is the greatest and grandest remedy in the world for expectant mothers."

Written by a Kentucky Attorney-at-Law.

MOTHER'S FRIEND prevents nine-tenths of the suffering incident to childbirth. The coming mother's disposition and temper remain unruffled throughout the ordeal, because this relaxing, penetrating liniment relieves the usual distress. A good-natured mother is pretty sure to have a good-natured child. The patient is kept in a strong, healthy condition, which the child also inherits. MOTHER'S FRIEND takes a wife through the crisis quickly and almost painlessly. It assists in her rapid recovery, and wards off the dangers that so often follow delivery.

Kodol Dyspepsia Cure

Digests what you Eat

When the stomach is diseased all the other organs suffer, hence fatal diseases of the heart, liver, lungs and kidneys are often the result of improper digestion. Kodol Dyspepsia Cure contains all the natural digestive fluids and by digesting what you eat, it cures the indigestion without aid from the stomach, allowing it to rest and regain its healthy condition and permitting you to eat all the good food you want.

"My rest is often disturbed at night by irregular heart action which I believe is on account of my stomach being overloaded with undigested food. I keep a bottle of Kodol Dyspepsia Cure nearby and a small dose always gives me instant relief. Ed. Thomas, Leitchfield, Ky."

It can't help but do you good

Prepared by E. C. DeWitt & Co., Chicago. The $1.00 bottle contains 2 1/2 times the 50c. size. The favorite household remedy for coughs, colds, croup, bronchitis, grippe, throat and lung troubles is ONE MINUTE Cough Cure. It cures quickly. Above Preparations sold by M'CUE & BUSS.

Start Girls Right!

Many beautiful girls become invalids for life, because at the crucial period of puberty they pay no attention to the laws of health. Mothers should protect their daughters' health by giving them necessary information and proper treatment. When the menses come on a girl unawares in her inexperience she is either frightened into convulsions, or scared into trying to check the flow. Many girls have checked the flow and it has never started again. And as a result they have grown pale-faced, with "crow-leaks" on their cheeks, and dark half-moons under their eyes. A dose of taken every morning after a girl is twelve years old will bring the menses on properly and keep them regular. It will help her to develop into attractive womanhood and equip her for the duties of wife and motherhood. All druggists sell $1.00 bottles of Wine of Cardui.

The Hollywood, Ashbury Park, N. J., February 9, 1900. I read your advertisement in regard to Wine of Cardui in the Baltimore American, and it so favorably impressed me that on my visit to Baltimore during the holidays I purchased a bottle of it for my adopted daughter, who was suffering with female troubles. She had been under the doctor's care for some time, and when her periods would come on her suffering was something terrible. I induced her to try it and the first dose brought on her menses. She took it regularly according to the directions, and was greatly relieved. To use her own words, "It saved my life." J. WESLEY CROSS.
